Hi. I am interested in banners. How much does that cost and for how long?

Thanks.

Please check the "CSN Record Details page - Data Reference field" link for further details on IC3 data. --- Incident description: in november of 2011 i was living on my own &amp; did not have a secure financial income or job. so i contacted a man via craigslist los angeles who claimed to be a up &amp; coming nude photographer. he said that he would take pictures of me in exchange for couple hundred dollars. he came to my house for a "mock" photoshoot because i was uncomfortable leaving my home with a stranger to take the images elsewhere. he told me that later if things went well we would begin shooting professionally. however he then asked to take close up images of my vagina &amp; anus/hole &amp; i inquired how images such as these could be considered tasteful in art. i felt very disturbed by this &amp; never contacted him again. &amp; i never once performed ANY sexual act with this man, ever. only met him once. a month later i found out that the email i used to contact him on an aol account (though i cant recall the name) had been completely removed from the server &amp; when i called aol, they had told me it was as if the account had never existed. this was the first strange occurrence. then a few weeks later in january 2012 a friend of mine messaged me on facebook &amp; told me he had seen nude images of me on a ex girlfriend exposed website. he sent me the link &amp; they were the same images this "photographer" had taken of me. except i had never given him a written or verbal consent to post these images anywhere. i immediately contacted the webmaster where the photos had been published &amp; explained my story of this crazy man who was claiming that i was his "little indian exgirlfriend who cheated on him" to have them removed. for the record im not even indian. that is just how psycho this man is. this was only the beginning of my troubles. another few weeks had passed by &amp; another couple friends of mine sent me messages all saying that some random guy sent them messages on facebook containing a link on 4chan that had all of the same nude images. none of them ever sent me a link of the account. but i had those images removed again from 4chan. this is when i began to worry because i had all my friends listed as private so the fact that he was able to find them &amp; send them my images was very vexing. this was when i decided to type my screen name Redacted [REDACTED] into google because i was under the impression that he had somehow possessed this information &amp; there could be no way as to how because i never contacted him with that name. he was flat out stalking me. i found the images on several other websites after that &amp; had them all removed the same way as all the others. all saying psychotics like i was his ex girlfriend or that i was an escort, he even linked my facebook account to some of these websites so you can see my concern. after i had all the images removed i thought my troubles were over. until a year later in march 2013, i decided to type in my screen name again to make certain everything was safe. it wasnt. there is this website called myex.com that has a few of these images with a link to my facebook &amp; the name of the city i lived in when i met him, it also says that i am an escort. i attempted to contact the site admin as i had done all the rest, but its already been almost 2 weeks &amp; i still havent received a response back. &amp; the website has not removed my images. it is listed that the account for those images was created in january 2013. so for some reason this psycho stalker has not left me alone for almost 2 years &amp; i dont his real name or have an email address or any contact information about him, sadly. i feel that these images will haunt me for a while &amp; i just wish this nightmare to end &amp;

I was currently out of town so I was unable to get the police involved. Then that same day I get 10 calls from the same number, asking me if I had seen the website yet and that he has been watching me. Then the next day, june 20, I get informed that he had created a fake facebook using my name, pictures from when I was 16 years old. He was sending friend requests to all my family and friends. He also sent everyone he added the link to the page he made about me to everyone. He is now threatning me to do more harsh things to me. I would like for those pictures to be put down on account I did not give him permission to put them up and send to my whole family.

These nude pictures also include a link to my profiles on social networking sites like Facebook and Twitter. I was unaware of the pictures until I began recieving messages from strangers commenting on my body and my privates and people I didn't know also sent me the link to the page where my pictures were posted. When the pictures were posted, I was 19years old. Multuple of the pictures posted were from when I was under the age of 18. I have sent many emails to the site requesting them to take them down but the site will not reply to me and they have not taken them down. There is almost 12,000 views on these pictures. I want them taken down and the harassment to stop. I would also love the site to be taken down if that is possible so the same thing that has happened to me does not happen to other people too.

I was trying to explain to a few of them but they sais I could pay the fee for the mug shot to be removed, most of them keep this as a removal service and claim it is the publics right to know. To know what? I was not convicted only charged and if I pay the fee somehow the public loses their "right to know". Clearly extortion. Paying them becomes a endless effort as there are multiple sites and new ones that crop up. There is a web site now that has my mug shot on it that also post porn - MYEX.com. Please help, these people are criminals trying to present themselves as reputable business and no one is doing anything about it. These are all posting my mugshot at this time. You can apparently even order a wall paper with my picture. mugshots.com ; US Counties [REDACTED] Redacted Personal Information [REDACTED] $700.00 is the amount I will have to pay on third party reputable online reputation business to clean up my online profile. However I understand they only bury the information, they cannot really remove it.

These photos where some how uploaded from my boyfriends cell phone over 2 months ago. I just found out 2 days ago that on 8/15/13 these photo's where posted on myex.com by some one claiming to be "my ex". I new right away the only person that had these photos was my boyfriend Redacted . I personally deleted all photos of my self from his phone about 2 months ago. I found out later that a woman by the name of Redacted was promoting my exploitation by contacting friends on my facebook page and sending them my nude photos, I dont know who she is all i know is her web page said she lives in Redacted . I have know idea why she would do this unless maybe she works for the website. I just want to know who did this and I want to know how is it legal for a website to allow people to knowingly post nude pictures with out the persons consent. I had no idea these photos even existed any more until they were on this page! I reported this to the local state troopers but they said sense im not a minor they cant help me. Is there any one that can do something about this!Please... I just want this nightmare to end. --- Specified Other Payment: Stollen Photos

Please check the "CSN Record Details page - Data Reference field" link for further details on IC3 data. --- Incident description: In July of 2013, while performing a Google search for my name Redacted I discovered numerous nude, extremely private photos of myself on a website called MyEx.com. After racking my brain to think of who could have possibly posted those pictures, I realized that no one could have had access to them because they were on MY PERSONAL COMPUTER. I immediately submitted an e-mail to the contact listed on the site (legal@myex.com) advising them that the photos were stolen and requesting that they remove them ASAP. I continued to do so for 3 consecutive weeks with no response whatsoever. At the time, these pictures were found on page 7 of a google search; Now they are the first or second link that comes up! I have also noticed that this site (MyEx.com) has made many changes since July. The site's removal policy states that they do not permit or entertain removal requests from individuals who have been submitted to the site. They go on to say "In some cases MyEx.com may adhere to the dispute resolution process from independent arbitration services" and they refer you to a link for internetreputation.com. Upon further investigation I spoke with a representative by the name of Redacted. He immediately knew the website I was referring to and offered to remove the content for a fee of $2800. He also provided me with his private telephone number. Further, this atrocious website (MyEx.com) also lists an option to "Remove my name" for $499.00. They instruct you wire the money via Western Union and to e-mail john_myexdotcom@yahoo.com for more details. I have no way to verify that this is legitimate and that my pictures will be removed! The grief that I'm experiencing is indescribable! I have a 13-year-old daughter, one parent with severe dementia and another who will literally have a heart attack if he finds these photos! I am afraid to apply for a job anywhere as most places do background checks and this site is now directly associated with my name as it comes up immediately! I am under a doctor's care for depression and anxiety due to this nightmare. Please contact me immediately via telephone or e-mail.

She has had the picture for a while. In June 2013 she paid a website called myex.com and posted those pictures for the public to view.if you search my name on google the images pop up and then like you to the website. This has ruined my life my friend was googling names and saw the images on Wednesday September 4,2013 and she told me. There are very bad comment on the pictures and false statements made. This has humiliated me a defamed my name. This is a hate crime and I want justice.i did not give any form of permission for these pictures to be posted. I am very mentally disturbed by this and need immediate assistance.i called a company called internetreputation.com , I paid them $1400 to start the process.this was done 9/7/13 .i have 1400 more before 30 days.i don't know if this is a real website that help this is why I am reporting everything.

On September 18, 2013 I received a call from my friend telling me that a David Patterson was calling my job to speak to me because they knew me. They had asked my manager if I was working and if he could tell him when I was working next but my manager did not disclose that information to him. They told my manager that there was a website with my pictures on it and told my friend that they had checked the website previously to see if their girlfriend was on it. The website is called myex.com and on the front page it has a caption with my first and last name on it and it gives you an option to click and see more pictures. These pictures are only pictures that my ex boyfriend, Redacted Redacted has. The Redacted who called my job asking to speak to me and asking to disclose information about when I was working next, I believe to be him. There have also been other incidents where I have gotten text messages from random numbers harassing me and telling me inappropriate things and I still have some of the messages. One of the phone numbers being Redacted . I had gotten a picture sent through an email as a text message, which I believe to be [REDACTED] as well by the email address of Redacted this picture was also followed by a text message asking if I liked the picture by the number of Redacted . With these text messages from July 26, 2013 and the recent discovery of my pictures being on this website I believe that I am being harassed by him. I would like for some action to be taken against him for what he has done and I would also like for my pictures as well as the website to be removed. I believe that him putting down my first and last name on a website like that is something that should never be done. I am unsure that he lives in Redacted but I do believe that he moved there. Please check the "CSN Record Details page - Data Reference field" link for further details on IC3 data. --- Incident description: My name is [Redacted]. I am 23 years old and I am on a one year internship in the States. On the 24th September 2013, I received an email in Facebook mail from an unknown person called [Redacted] with the message: "Your ex bf put these up and more pic with a vid of u" and there was three pictures in the message. Two of which were from my own Facebook account (which is completely private, I dont accept people I dont know or hardly know) and only my friends can see my pictures. One I recognized from a profile picture which had my friend cut out and my picture was right beside a 'graphic photo', the other picture I had never used as a profile picture so it wouldnt be possible for someone other than a friend on Facebook to get a hold of that picture, like the other one, it was alongside another graphic picture. Firstly, I was in no way aware such pictures of me ever existed at any time during in my ex-boyfriend's and mine two and a half year relationship or after. I immediately called my ex-boyfriend who lives in [Redacted] and he admitted he did have these pictures of me along with others and he had put them on a usb stick with my full name and took it out of his house over a year ago and "lost" it. however, the pictures of me appearing normal in these photos are from this past year Halloween 2012 and after new years 2013 and he is the only one who would have access to those pictures because he is a friend on facebook. to clarify, I dont accept any people I have never met before on facebook and I keep my account as private as possible. I had a Facebook chat with my former boyfriend, [Redacted] Penston, (I was between the ages of 19 and 21 while we were together so I dont know when these photos were even taken) after I went to the police station where a detective found out the host site is called "www.myex.com" and he confirmed "it includes your name and where your from in the heading." I have the conversation saved from [Redacted] about how he "lost a usb" with all these pictures on it. I would never consent to pictures of this nature to be taken and the only thing I can think of is that I was completely drunk but even then I am still aware of what I am doing(and it would not be this). We were together for two and a half years and I would never allow for anything private to be recorded by a phone or some other device. I have no recollection of these pictures even been taken. I dont even know how long these pictures have been online at this website or if they are on any other sites. Throughout the whole relationship I was firm that I didn't want any private pictures or videos taken. [Redacted] said there was only those three pictures that that guys sent me but the detective confirmed there was around 12 on this website and a video. I dont know who he has sent these pictures to or how many others he has. There is no one else that would have access to this but him. On the 25th of September, I contacted a solicitor in Ireland to help with this situation. he told me the website is a Dutch company and could be very difficult to get this content removed. I also had to inform my parents of this and they went to the Irish police to find out what we can do. In addition to this, I received another mail through facebook in my 'other' file for mail received by unknown people on the 26th September with another guy telling me "Hey. Theres a video and some pics you need to be notified about. Its on an Ex revenge porn site." he also sent a link that has my full name and the town where I am from in [Redacted], which again only my ex-boyfriend would have known. Below are the "Terms and Agreements" of his website that allegedly go along with payment: &lt;Begin&gt; Using the "Delete This Record Now" process on MyEx.com is a voluntary option to users who prefer to not appear on the publicly accessible section of MyEx.com. By processing a "Delete This Record Now" request you understand and agree to the following terms and conditions. There is a fee associated with the "Delete This Record Now" process, currently USD. This fee covers the cost incurred with altering the accessible content published on MyEx.com and the labor associating with removing search engine results for the profile after it has been removed. The following are the terms and conditions associated with the "Delete This Record Now" process: 1. The record will be removed from access on the domain MyEx.com only. This process does not pertain to or act on behalf of any other company, government agency or individual with respect to any record information contained within. 1a. The page containing the record information, and pages associated with the record information will be altered to contain no record of the removed profile. 1b. The search functions of the website will return no records relating to the deleted record. 1c. Attempts to access the deleted record directly by url will result in a 404 error (page not found). 1d. The hosting of the record on the domain myex.com will cease within a 72 hour period from the time the transaction completes. 2. Search engine results will be sanitized of results directly related to the URL of the record. Removal of search engine results can take up to 30 days to complete successfully, but can usually be achieved in much less time. MyEx.com will actively remove results from ONLY the following search engines: 2a. Google      2b. Yahoo      2c. Bing Pay With PayPal is temporarily unavailable at this moment, you can use the Western Union as an alternative payment method. Pay via Western Union This is the only Legal Email Address for MyEx.com "john_myexdotcom@yahoo.com". Please only negotiate with this Email "john_myexdotcom@yahoo.com". (I do not know if this person has something to do with the crime.) I found the website and there is no way to have the information removed. My email was hacked into earlier this year, but I didn't notice anything strange after I got back in. However, now I know that someone hacked into my email and found this nude picture of me taken five years ago(which I thought had been completely deleted). It is now all over the internet. I believe I can get it removed from most of the sites just by asking, but myex.com is the only one that has my real name. If my name and state is googled, the myex.com site comes up immediately. This picture was not posted by an "angry ex". It was stolen. I should also note that when my email was hacked, so was my faceboook, which gave me the IP address. I did a search on this IP, and found that it came from the same city in which I live. I plan to contact my local police department so they can hopefully find who it was, but right now my biggest concern is getting this photo off of myex.com because it has my name (and other pictures they stole from my facebook account). I've learned my lesson. But that was 5 years ago, and now I am a mother and plan to be a business owner. If I can't get it removed, it is so easily found in an online search, that I know it will follow me and ruin my reputation for the rest of my life. Please help!

49442583	11/04/2013	This company is host of 'www.myex.com' and my ex-husband who has broken into my emails on several accounts and with whom I have on-going legal issues with has posted pictures or me (my face) and naked pictures of other females claiming to be me. When I contacted the companies (no response within 5 days, twice per day) I get no response and simply a 'remove your name' link which is attempting to charge $499 USD to remove false information about me put on the internet which is defamation of character. This is pure extortion as all of the photos are not even of me, so I should not be extorted to pay $499 to an overseas address to have this wrongful information removed. I have also filed a complaint with local authorities - case number is [Redacted] --- Additional Comments: I request that this erroneous page with my name, city and false representation be removed immediately. I also request that since this company is under contract with myex.com, that the information of the person used to sign up, pay money and post these pictures be given to myself or to officer [Redacted Personal Information] [Redacted] case number mentioned above so I can pursue further legal action against this gross negligence, which has crossed the line of defamation of character.

I found this information to be true when I visited the website. Redacted [REDACTED] and I are currently going through divorce. We separated March 13, 2013 and have currently been legally married for 10 years. We were married on October 11, 2003. The pictures were taken several years ago over the course of our marriage. The majority of the pictures uploaded to the website were taken by Redacted [REDACTED] with the exception of 2 that were taken by me on a cell phone that I had texted to him. When we separated in March 2013 I demanded the pictures back from him and he informed me that the pictures had been deleted. I have not shared these pictures with anyone other than Redacted [REDACTED]. I also did not have any copies of the pictures until now. The profile on the website was created July 15, 2013 and has had over 6550 views from the public over the internet with comments attached to the profile. Redacted [REDACTED] also listed that my location was Redacted [REDACTED] which is not true. I have not lived in Redacted [REDACTED] since I was 15 years old and only lived there for 4 years. Very few people whom I have had interaction with over the last 10 years even know that I ever lived there. There are a total of 6 pictures that have been uploaded to this website. 50843165	12/18/2013	I am interested in filing charges against and getting the website myex.com removed from the internet. My 16 year old is the latest victim of this extortion site. She had made the unfortunate mistake of sending her boyfriend some topless photos. With the intent that they were for 'his eyes only' since he was her 'boyfriend'. After they broke up, he posted these pictures and derogatory remarks about her on the site, including her real name, city, person info and psychiatric information. She has never actual met this man (19 yr old) in real life. (The whole of their relationship took place via phone and email.) The site charges $500 to get the info removed, from it's site and an additional $500 for EACH of it's sister-sites. I have filed a police report with my local law enforcement to press charges against the adult that posted my daughter info. However, this HAS to be illegal! How is this not extortion!!! Whether you're a minor or not. I would like to be contacted about how I can press charges against this company, get this site and it's sister sites shut down, and get some restitution for my 16 year old daughter, who's reputation is now destroyed. There are hundreds, if not thousands of victims. --- CA Source: Web Form -- CA Status: Closed
50353317	12/20/2013	A random stranger wrote to me on Facebook saying that he found me here on this website [Redacted Personal Information Redacted]. I was really shocked to see myself on there! This info is not true and I want to remove my pics and info off that site but when I click on remove info it leads me to a page saying I need to pay money which looks like it's in Euro currency. If I try to contact the website it says that I need to write snail mail to them in Amsterdam but I also emailed them somehow and in that email it says they will remove my info if I give them $499.99 through Western Union in the Philippines. This is all very confusing because there are several ways to pay and in different currencies and different destinations. On this site there were several pictures posted of me and a commentary that was almost identical to the comment on the other page. The photos had been copied from my facebook page, a professional photographer's online portfolio (a copy written image), and google (these photo's are not found with an image search anywhere but on the page my.com, though were once on google). The site gave a link to my social media account along with my name and that of my partner and the state and city we reside. Only one photo was partially nude, the one that belonged to the photographer. It was the slanderous comments that were the most harming claiming I worked as a prostitute and "stripper," was a drug addict, had several suicide attempts, hospital admissions, and arrests; as well as claiming I often leave my son to go party. This post was made on November 29, 2013. The site offers a removal fee of about 500$ USD. I immediately set out on a campaign to raise awareness to this sort of victimization, rather than hiding it. On Tuesday December 24, 2013 I found the page had been removed. Besides the attempt to defame and extort money, I feared for the safety of myself and my family (my partner and 9 year old son). I stopped sleeping, eating, and began to hide inside my house researching laws and contacting anyone I could think of. On December 22, 2013, my partner and I filed a report with the local [Redacted] [Redacted], who really stated that there was no crime committed and stated first amendment rights. We insisted he document the incident anyway. I have a suspicion of who made the anonymous post based on multiple pieces of circumstantial evidence. After speaking with a family friend, a retired [Redacted], who then instructed me to contact you as this was something you would be able to investigate, (extortion, intent to defame or cause harm, cyber bullying) and wouldn't push me away as did the local PD.

The site states that the picture was posted on Nov. 8, 2013. I did not find out that the picture was up until Jan. 1, 2014. The picture now shows up in Google when my name is searched. I am in my last semester in school to become a public school teacher. I begin student teaching in a week. I will be teaching high school. It only takes one student to Google my name before the entire school finds out. My career is in jeopardy. I have contacted a lawyer to have the picture copyrighted. (It is clear in the picture that I am the one taking the photograph.) But they have done little to get the case under way. The image has been reported to Google, and Google has been contacted (I spoke with someone who is putting together a report- her name is [REDACTED]). The image came down from Google at one point (last Saturday or Sunday 1/4 or 1/5 I can't be sure), but is now back up (1/10). I have tried to contact Redacted, but with no success. I'm also worried to upset him as things could get worse- they will get worse, he is extremely vindictive and has been in trouble with the law countless times. Please help. I do not want my career to be ruined because of something like this- and I would never want to think any of my students could be victimized the same way. We were married for 3 1/2 years and we've been divorced now for 1 1/2 years. Please feel free to contact me regarding the issue. Thank you for your time and attention to this matter, Redacted

51629835	01/27/2014	I am an active duty United States Marine. I do not reside in the state of CA but I read a recent article about your successful case against Redacted and Redacted and was hoping you could do something about myex.com. My wife recently had some unsavory pictures posted on that site and it seems the only way to get them removed is by paying the $499.99 extortion fee. The site is not located in the United States but if you cant legally go after its administrators then maybe it could at least be blocked from US search engines. And if there are any international agencies that deal with this sort of thing please forward my complaint and contact info up to them. Thank-you Redacted. --- CA Source: Web Form --- CA Status: Closed

They included her FaceBook contact information and intentionally reported her as 18. We received several anonymous messages informing us of this. I have already contacted local law enforcement but was advised by DCMA to also contact FBI. That is why I am reaching out to your Internet Crimes unit. My daughter suffers from Bipolar Disorder, and attacks of this type can cause irreparable emotional damage. I'm not sure what more can be done, but hopefully if enough people report things like this justice will be served.

Please check the "CSN Record Details page - Data Reference field" link for further details on IC3 data. --- Incident description: Almost a year ago, my sister and her husband had to painfully let me know that they found nude pictures of myself and my husband on the internet. There was no other explanation as to how they were leaked onto the internet aside from computer hacking as my husband and I took these photos for each other and are in a strong, loving relationship. A specific set of them, which are mostly of me are now coming up as some of the first images in the results when you search my first and last name (my maiden name). They started showing up in search engines within the last three months. I am horrified and I have been suffering mental and physical aliments throughout this whole ordeal as I feel completely embarrassed and violated and I am very concerned with my career along with my husbands. I have emailed this site and their supposed administrator countless times and they are not willing to take them down. I have sent DMCA take down notices to this site as well and they ignore them. I need help. My husband is overseas on deployment and the lawyer I spoke with seems to know less than I do nor can I afford his services that don't guarantee anything. Also, this site and others have stories that "narrate" the nude pictures of me that are disgusting, degrading, make me sound like an awful human being, and are absolutely false. The site also says the state I live in, a state that I recently lived in within the last 12 months, my first and last name, and I am disturbed by all of these facts and scared as to how they got this information and what this might mean for me. Not to mention, the first thing that comes up when you click on the photo that appears in the search results is how and who to PAY to supposedly get the photos taken down. Doesn't this constitute black mail/exploitation, copyright infringement, defamation, and invasion of privacy? How is this legal? Why are they ignoring my DMCA take down letter when all the other sites I sent them to complied without any hesitation. I am a student and trying to go to school as well as work and this is making my life very difficult. I have terrible anxiety now whenever I'm in public, school, work, etc. I am afraid that one of my classmates, teachers, co-workers may find these and get me into trouble or fired or who knows what else. I need someone to give me some answers and to get these photos taken down from this disgusting site and hopefully all the sites they appear on. Do I call the police? I do not trust what people would do if they found these. There are comments under the pictures that confirm that people are recognizing me in the photos. I am upset and I'm scared. I fear for my safety. I feel like a computer hacker is somehow tracking and targeting me. It's really messing with my head, not to mention how worried and upset my husband is by this situation as he has had to listen to me deal with this while he is also dealing with being overseas on deployment. My husband and I are good people. I am studying to become a teacher and he is in the military. We don't deserve this abuse. We believe we are the victims of computer hacking and internet abuse. Please help me.

Photos of me, my 7 year old daughter, my family and photos meant for my boyfriends eyes only were somehow stolen off the computer. For the past 7 months I have been notified by family and friends that pictures of my daughter are being posted on various photo sharing sites (which I have fought to be taken down for weeks, such as a site called flicker or something like that). Photos of me have been appearing on adult sites with videos attached claiming to be me, but it's false and they are NOT me! The latest website I have been battling with since Jan. 29th is a website called Myex.com. The webmaster refuses to return emails and the site says the only way to get the photos and videos down is to pay $400. I am a single mom and I work at my daughters school. We live alone in our home as my boyfriend has not yet moved in. This website has posted where I live and I am beyond scared for my safety and more so the safety of my daughter. I have since deleted the photos from the computer and the computer is not in use, unplugged and sitting in a closet where no one can find it. But the damage has already been done by some jerk who thinks its fun to invade people's privacy, steal photos of children and people they don't know and post them for everyone to see. I don't know who did thus but please, I beg you, is there some way you can assist me in finding either who did this or assist in getting the photos of myself and any more of my daughter from being seen by the millions of people on the internet??? I am desperate for any help!!!

I learned where they got me email address. A couple of my friends from Facebook also said a girl contacting them with links to them on Facebook saying they had naked pictures of me. A friend of the family sent me the link. The links had my full name, the area I am from and my email address. There was a paragraph on the site that said to contact me and I will send pictures to anyone. They harassed me. They are claiming that it is a pornography revenge website. These exact pictures were in my email account that was hacked. I had belonged to a dating site was hacked who had 140,000 email addresses and passwords stolen. On the myex.com site there is a button that says remove my pictures and a link to a shopping cart that charged $495.00. There is no name, address or any information about this company, just an internet form. Later, the site changed the link to a reputation removal site. When I do a search for my name on Bing.com my naked photo comes up in the web search results immediately. It's also the first result that comes up on Google. Please help!

Not only did he victimize me via text and over the phone, he became physically violent with me on more than one occasion, which is mostly why the relationship ended and I moved on. A year later, it appears he sought revenge by posting inappropriate photos of me and even one that is not me. He did not have the permission to even have/obtain the photos that he posted on myex.com that are of me, some I do not recognize as me or at least know that I would not have given them to him to have or use for any intents or purposes. On June 9th, 2013, photos, a description of me that is was intended to harm and slander me and it has taken it's toll in many forms. I only found out that this happened when someone searched my name on Google along with UWSP, the former institution where I had attended college. The second result of the search still includes the site myex.com and not only are the photos a defamation of me, they are meant to portray me in a way that is not representative of who I really am as a person. Not only can anyone see these, over 24,000 people have, who I have no idea who these people are. Additionally, anyone can save these photos for their own use and distribution, possibly already have. Furthermore, the photos of my face that are clearly me, you can click on and go to my facebook directly, despite my privacy settings. I have had multiple friend requests for people I have never met nor have ever met anyone I know, some even messaging me telling me things like "I like your hair". Not only has this site provided a way for friends, family or employers to see things that no one except my soon to be husband should see, some of them may have already. I have undergone an and continue to undergo a deep level of emotional distress and do not know what else to do. I have contacted local authorities to have them assist in having the site remove the post, but they say they cannot and cannot help me in any other way. We do still have an acquaintance or two that could potentially get the person I know did this, admit he did this. As far as I am currently aware, having done these things without my knowledge or consent, he has committed a a misdemeanor, by which he can be punished with up to $10,000 in fines and nine months in jail. Of course, these things only apply if he is caught. We have contacted Google to see if they can remove the search result but nothing has been done, the search result is still there. Without the authorities locally being able to have the site remove this, I will continue to be harassed and continue to be emotionally distressed. The website also requires you pay $400 dollars through Western Union to have the photos removed, but from my research, those individuals who have done this, end up doing it multiple times with no resolve as the photos are typically put back up a few months later. Regardless, to have to pay to have photos removed when it was never consented to be put there in the first place, is considerably extortion. Please let me know if there is anything else I can do.

I was first harassed Christmas of 2011 where he had broken into my facebook and posted pornographic images of me for everyone I knew to see and posted personal information that was in my emails. I deleted my account to say the least. Two years later, this past week, my boyfriend received a friend request from a fake account under the name of Redacted from Redacted. Redacted name had "looky what I found" after his name and the profile picture and pictures uploaded were pornographic images of myself along with a link to Redacted Personal Information where I could only have it removed if I paid $400, which I feel is an indirect form of blackmailing. I reported the facebook page but I can do nothing to the website. On the website in the bio it even states part of what had happened on facebook. This greatly impacts my life negatively in both personally and professionally. I have tried to contact my local law enforcement and have left a message. I do not know what else to do. I really just want the pictures gone and for him to leave me alone. If you can not help will you please point me in the right direction?

If you search someones name it pops up on google search. Ill give you a perfect example of what it does to somebody and my story. My name is Redacted and around November I started dating a girl named Redacted who was in the process of a divorce, we didn't get very serious or anything, Redacted has a kid from a previous boyfriend before she was married, This person has mental issues (we found out he had cameras spy devices on her phone etc) this is all stuff that happens with people who have mental issues, anyhow when me and Redacted started dating (nothing serious) he got jealous and posted her on myex.com, then I was also posted with pictures of 2 homosexual males and in the posting it says im on steroids, gay and racist, then in comment section it posts my address phone number etc putting me in danger. After many attempts and emails to the site trying different avenues they do nothing, wont take it down etc. I lost my contract with fedex ground and had to take a low paying speedee delivery job because if I am google searched as Redacted its what comes up, ive always been an honest citizen and haven't ever been in an ounce of trouble my whole life and ive pretty much lost my business because of this site. Many people have committed suicide due to this site because it is there to destroy lives and maybe some of the people were posted there for good reason but theres a lot who have not done nothing to deserve any of this. It sounds petty but this is a big deal, this destroys lives. I know it probably wont be easy to take the site down but if you can give me anything on what I can do? The pictures were posted on myex.com yesterday July 3rd 2014. I had taken my broken laptop to a friend of my roommate at the time that said he could get my information off and get it on a zip drive for me, which he did. I'm now convinced he has kept my laptop info for himself also and is victimizing me over the internet. The website is asking me to pay per picture to have them removed but i don't believe that is the appropriate way of handling it. I've just moved to the [Redacted] area less than a week ago and now i fear this will effect me in trying to find work because the pictures are so easy to find and there are about 10 different ones of me fully exposed. Just yesterday after the pictures were posted i received 2 phone calls from local businesses i had applied to calling to cancel my already set up interview times claiming the position was actually filled. I came to [Redacted] fully prepared to work and i now believe that this incident is going to effect that until the pictures are removed. I will be seeking compensation if i continue to lose job prospects. I'm not prepared to be out of work and I can't have this situation effecting the way employees view me. Also someone has posted my parents house number up there, where i no longer live and it is causing my parents to be harassed. [Redacted] is the name of the guy who retrieved the information off my broken laptop for me, and is the person i believe posted the pictures online. I've seen the pictures now surface on more than one site and can be found on a google image search. [Redacted] lives in [Redacted] but i don't have an exact address. I begin getting over 50 friend requests on facebook. A couple days later, I found that someone had hacked into my account and posted naked pictures of me on a website called myex.com. They posted them under my name [Redacted]. Someone on facebook gave me the information of where my pictures were and offered to help me take them down. Some of these pictures were from facebook messenger app on my phone, but some of them were only stored in my phone and not sent so I believe my phone was hacked. I attempted to get the pictures removed, but the website did not respond right away. My boss at [Redacted Personal Information Redacted] started getting harassed by a facebook user called [Redacted] and getting constant messages to the link of the pictures on the website, and they also kept repeatedly trying to post it on the Facebook page of the [Redacted]. She would keep deleting it, and they would keep sending it. I finally got the pictures removed from the website, but now I am getting text messages on my phone asking to have sex with them for money. The message is from an app called [Redacted], which hands out random phone numbers to people on computers or phone to use to text people. This number is [Redacted]. They said they have -My facebook, cell number, and address- in the metadata from EXIF metadata, I believe from the pictures posted, or maybe from my phone being hacked. They are now harassing me saying they are watching my chats logs, calling me a prostitute, and when I said I am going to delete my online accounts, they said -Ima ask papi about data cuz I can speak espanol too. Como fue la de tres vias puta comieron la lengua que prostitute repugnante? El gate te comio la lengua que prostitute repugnante?- They are harassing comments and I believe everything I do is being watched.

My Facebook, email and Twitter accounts were hacked while I resided with my family in [Redacted] from 2011-2013. The hackers stole private images of me and called me on the phone from a blocked number, threatening me with the general release of the images on the internet. I tried to close the internet accounts but was not successful as the password could not be reset to allow me access to close the accounts. The images were posted on MyEx.com and [Redacted]. I tried to contact those sites and did not hear anything back from them. I then returned with my family to [Redacted] in December of 2013. I have repeatedly checked Google for my name and have not seen my image posted until now. My mother now knows about the images and has contact the FBI for help.

Well in mid to late October I got a job at [Redacted] and met this guy. My boyfriend and I weren't doing so good and I cheated on him (around march) with the guy I met. Well once he found out he quit his job on the spot and made me pack my stuff and move back home to [Redacted] we'll I guess [Redacted] got mad because he exposed nude photos of me on the internet. They're on myex.com and there have been so many views there's no telling what other websites they're on now. I've been getting mean and vulgar facebook messages (I have proof) and tons of different friends requests. It is really tearing up my life. I need help so bad. To find the photos you go to the website and search for my name and state. Please help me!!!!
59420219	02/18/2015	I received a text from my professor at [Redacted Personal Information] stating she received a link with my name and she thought it was spam, but opened it up and it was my nude photos. She emailed me the link. I opened the link and found my nude photos online with my name and city of where I lived. The website was myex.com. The same photos went to another website called [Redacted] which included a picture of my Facebook Page with even more information. I was able to get my name and city removed from the myex.com website but couldn't from the other. I went to the [Redacted Personal Information] and filed my complaint and also went to [Redacted Personal Information] on Monday, Jan 19 to file the complaint against the student. A conduct hearing was held and the student was removed from NSU this semester, but can return in the Fall. I am upset with the companies that will not remove my personal photos and I never provided consent for them to receive the photos. I filed a protective order against my ex-boyfriend and he is unable to remove the photos from the websites. I am not sure where those photos have gone. I had to close my Facebook account because people were finding me and making sexual comments.
60915942	04/06/2015	The consumer's personal assistant is calling on her behalf. The consumer states that her ex-boyfriend is posting her personal information online on a website called myex.com and has used her information to open multiple Facebook accounts impersonating to be the consumer. UPDATE: 04/07/15. Consumer is calling to ask if she needs to follow up and go to the sheriff's office. [Redacted] UPD: 4/9/15 Consumer wanted to put a pin on her report. Consumer states that she was put back on the myex.com. [Redacted]
63226505	06/27/2015	some person posted nude photos of my wife and the Internet site called myex.com. without permission i go to site and file a complaint to take the photo down because they have that in their website that if you want photos down you can file a complaint to take them down and I'll take them down but all the time to do that I get viruses pop-ups and they still haven't come down. there no tel phone to complaint too ether

63689343	07/11/2015	On April 25, 2015, [Redacted Personal Information] attempted to kill me by strangling me with an extension cord. He currently has criminal charges pending in superior court: assault by strangulation, 2nd degree kidnapping, withholding emergency communication (he stole my phone and computer), and larceny. After he attempted to kill me, I found out from detective [Redacted] that the man I had been dating and living with for four months had given me a false name and identity. I then found out that he has a decade long history of criminal charges, including three assault on women charges and multiple violation of protective orders, amongst many other charges. He was arrested and bailed out of jail and two weeks later, I got a text message from an unknown number, letting me know that all of my personal information was posted on a revenge porn site called myex.com. If you google search my name and the web site name, you will see in the comments section of many other women's pages where all my information has been posted, along with the three total pages he has created with pictures of me on it (two have since been deleted, but one remains). While [Redacted] and I lived together, he had access to my purse and all my personal information in it almost every day. I never once thought that the man who told me he loved and would protect me would do this to me. On this filthy website has been posted my name, address, social security number, date of birth, phone number (I have since changed it), drivers license number, place of business (I have since had to quit my job and move), my work phone number, instagram handle, and facebook name. Since this information was posted, I have acquired life lock and contacted the three credit bureau agencies and put a 90 day watch on my information. There have been four attempts at people trying to use my name and info to open up credit cards and a pay pal account. Because of these attempts, my credit score went down 40 points in one month. Due to the severity of the charges against [Redacted] and his past of assault charges and violation of protective orders, the District Attorney advised me to leave town. I have had to sell my house that I have owned for only 9 months (the address on here will change soon so please don't send mail there) and as soon as it closes, I will attempt to change my name and social security number. Since the judge ordered that a court monitored tracking device be put on [Redacted] in the form of an ankle bracelet, the way he can get to me is to destroy my name, credit, and reputation. He told me the day that he strangled me, "I will ruin your life", and he is doing exactly what he said he was going to do. The cops and detectives know all of this but have said that since he has been using different alias' and phone numbers that they can't prove that it's him. PLEASE help me.
66553597	09/30/2015	DMCA violations and postings of child pornography on site. On 09/29/15 the owner of myex.com allowed pornographic images of me as a minor to be posted on their site by a stalker. I had to file a report with police and seek legal aid. The site has failed to respond to any requests to remove the images. --- Additional Comments: I would like the pictures removed immediately and to never be posted on their site again.
